Jessica Li

As the point of contact, I contacted all 37 member enterprises that I manage from Mar. to Jun., and also helped other member enterprises that are not directly connected to SHFIA and foreign enterprises that have not yet joined the association as much as I could. Also, I led the SME Service Department to organize a series of seminars on empowering SMEs; collected and published information on the supply of materials to help enterprises to resume work and production; researched and reported on the COVID-19 impact and policy recommendations for foreign SMEs; organized a team to collect supporting policies for SMEs; and participated in a special roundtable meeting of foreign SMEs organized by the Shanghai Municipal Commission of Commerce (SMCC).

Wilson Ma

In Apr., I contacted 17 members in the chemical sector that were in the white list of the Shanghai Municipal Commission of Economy and Informatization to learn about their situation of resumption of work and production; coordinated two member enterprises to make donations; and actively connected with the Shanghai People's Association for Friendship with Foreign Countries and The Paper to set up media interviews for 12 member enterprises. In May, as the head of SHFIA's working group to connect with SMCC for the resumption of work and production of foreign enterprises, I led a comprehensive survey on the situation of member enterprises, and submitted 7 reports which identified 47 problems encountered by 43 enterprises. Throughout the pandemic period, we made use of the resources and channels accumulated in previous work to effectively address logistics-related challenges for our member enterprises.

Zhu Jing

From March to the end of May, a total of 18 enterprises were implemented to donate money and materials, raising a total of more than 14 million yuan in donations and materials. During this period, due to the obstruction of logistics, thousands of ways to take the initiative to contact the Civil Affairs Bureau and foundations through various means, not only to provide epidemic-proof masks and protective clothing for the square cabin, hospitals, etc., but also to deliver some of the supplies to communities and nursing homes in need.

Tang Yawen

We helped 19 member enterprises to apply for and receive Shanghai's "Supply-Guarantee Enterprise" certificates – some certificates were granted on the day of document submission, while others were granted the next day, which promptly helped enterprises solve challenges in guaranteeing supplies. In addition, we contributed to the research report on the resumption of work and production of foreign enterprises during the pandemic; helped coordinate the problems faced by enterprises in the process of actual resumption of work and production; formed special reports on common problems and other feedbacks to relevant government departments; and actively conveyed the voices of member enterprises.

Ji Xiaobei

During the pandemic, we conducted a survey on the resumption of work and production of 82 member enterprises, and reported the problems and needs that they faced in business recovery to various government departments in a timely manner. At the same time, we secured "Supply-Guarantee Enterprise" certificates for 2 member enterprises, collected information sheets on the supply of materials for resumption of work and production, and solved questions and requests for help from member enterprises.

Ju Ri

During the pandemic, we organized member companies to donate anti-epidemic materials to Changchun, Jilin, conducted research on the resumption of work and production of nearly 80 enterprises in the automotive industry, assisted two member companies in obtaining invitations for foreign employees to come to China, and solved questions and requests for help from member enterprises.
